Fred Sissons Liberal Choice for Lacombe

Great Enthusiasm Shown At Local Liberal Rally

LACOMBE, Nov. 24.—From what old-timers contend was the largest most enthusiastic and most democratic convention in the history of the Lacombe constituency, Fred Sissons, prominent and highly popular farmer of the Clive district emerged on Friday evening as the Liberal candidate in the Lacombe constituency at the next provincial general election. The candidate was made unanimous when Stanley Puffer, who had contested the halibut for the honor with Mr. Sissons, moved that the latter be given the undivided support of the delegates.

Section has this town been the scene of such an enthusiastic gathering. From all sections of the riding, from Edmonton and other large provincial points, came delegates and well-wishers to attend.

HOWSON IS PRESENT

Among the visitors was W. R. Howson, M.L.A., provincial Liberal leader, who extended his heartiest congratulations to Mr. Sissons and who spoke at the grand mass meeting held in the evening.

While the convention was sponsored by the Liberals and was for the express purpose of selecting a Liberal candidate, it was thrown open to all and by resolution, all those attending were entitled to vote, whether they were accredited delegates from local or residents who came on account of interest in public affairs.

Four names were submitted to the convention. In addition to Mr. Sissons and Mr. Puffer, the names of C. F. Damron, Bentley, and M. G. Gies, of Mirror, were submitted by the chairman.

Mr. Damron withdrew his name, stating he did not desire to run on a straight Liberal ticket, but proposed to contest the election as an independent Liberal. Mr. Gies then withdrew, leaving Messrs. Sissons and Puffer to go to a ballot.

The count of ballots was made public, but when the result was announced, Mr. Sissons was the recipient of a protracted, whole-hearted, ovation, which lasted for several minutes.

He is an old timer in the district and has had a schooling in public affairs as a member of the municipal council.

Deputy Mayor Thomas Wilkes, pinch-hitting for Mayor Edwin H. Jones, delivered the address of welcome to the delegates. The order of business was then approved by the meeting.

Appointment of a resolution committee resulted in the following being named: W. F. Puffer, W. McNair, George Doherty and Fred Sissons. Fred Riley was named chairman of the finance committee.

The credentials committee was under the chairmanship of Dr. E. M. Sharpe with Norman Morrison and R. Gies as assistants.

By resolution it was decided that all nominations be made from the floor of the meeting and not by ballot. Dr. Sharpe moved that all ballots cast be accepted in view of the fact that this was an open meeting. This was approved.

A resolution to postpone the nomination until a later date, was rejected.

Resolutions were passed expressing the confidence in the leadership of Rt. Hon. W. L. McKenzie King, in the Dominion and W. R. Howson in the provincial field.

FRED SISSONS THE LIBERAL NOMINEE

The Liberals of Lacombe Constituency are to be congratulated on the selection of Mr. Fred Sissons, a standard bearer in the forthcoming provincial elections. Mr. Sissons has for the past thirty years farmed successfully in the district, and has also given the best of his time and ability to furthering the interests of Central Alberta. He has represented his home district on the council of the municipality for several years, and has also been Mayor for a term. In these positions he served his constituents in a most able manner, and instituted many needed reforms.

A consistent Liberal in politics, he has the happy faculty of not antagonizing others who are not eye to eye with him, and numbers among his friends members of all political parties. He has made life study of the various schemes for the betterment of the Alberta farmer, and his election would in no small way strengthen the position of the Liberal party in the Provincial house when legislation affecting them was under consideration. From experience he knows what the farmers of Central Alberta need, and in his short address at the convention expressed his views plainly. One thing the electors can bank on, is that when Mr. Sissons pledges himself to any particular reform, he will be found supporting it to the end; he will not make promises for the purpose of securing votes—he is a man of his word.

How American Owned Chain Stores Exploit Canadian Clerks

HOW AMERICAN OWNED STORES THRIVE HERE

OTTAWA—Evidence of low wages paid by chain stores was presented to the mass buying commission Monday when it opened its inquiry into the merchandising practices of these vast organizations with stores dotting the country.

Fred P. Higgins, Toronto auditor, told of managers of meat and grocery departments in one chain organization of 500 stores, being paid $4 a day and held responsible for all stock. He told of 15 men averaging $7.34 and 120 women $6.78 for a full week's work. Another organization paid 194 grocery clerks $7 to $18 for 48 hours. Delivery boys working 48 hours for $1.50. Employees for a grocery chain worker from 65 to 75 to $1.25 a week. A married man was employed at $4 a week and his meals, and a girl as waitress for $10 and meals.

At the same time, the auditor said chain stores survived the depression with less injury than most industries certainly less injury than manufacturers and farmers. He gave figures to show increasing profits in recent years and steady dividends and stock bonuses.

One large food chain doing an annual volume of business of $17,000,000 in Canada is owned and controlled entirely by United States interests. In another, Mr. Higgins said "one having a sales volume of $19,000,000, the directors hold less than 4 per cent of the outstanding stock and 71 per of all shares outstanding are registered in the United States."

RIMSEY NEWS

On Monday, November 19th, the members of the local branch of the British Legion in Canada held a banquet in the Rimsey Hall for its members, their families and other guests.

The president of the legion, Mr. L. S. Cullen, as master of ceremonies, proposed the toast to "Our King and Country". The entire assembly responded by the singing of "God Save the King." The toast "To Our Guests" given by the Rev. Mr. T. H. Chapman and Rev. Mr. G. D. Young responded. To the Legion, the response by Major A. Franklin, manager of the Bank of Montreal. A short program of music and readings interspersed with the toast of the evening, followed the banquet and the evening finally wound up with dancing and cards. Many people were in attendance.

Mr. Brown, the Hon. J. E. Brown, was in Rimsey on Saturday afternoon and met with members of the board of trade, village and municipal councillors and other Rimsey residents to probe further into the matter of building a gravelled road to provide an outlet for Rimsey and west territory to the west. A delegation from Bentley and Lacombe were also present and Red Deer sent a representative to voice their willingness to co-operate with the government in the proposed highway.

Mr. Brown explained the situation from the government's point of view, very thoroughly and pointed out that a road down the Blindman Valley, between Bentley and Bentley had been on the road building program for several years.

Miss Laura Halpin, of Lacombe, is spending a week in Rimsey, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Halpin.

Magistrate E. H. Jones presided at a court session on Thursday. One case was presented with until 1 p.m., when it was adjourned to continue at a later date. Mr. R. J. McClellan, of Red Deer and Mr. C. M. Boyton, of Bentley were the two counsels in the case. Mr. J. E. Brown and Mr. Durnford King, of Red Deer, Alberta, were among the witnesses called.

A third witness, who operates a saw mill west of Hoadley was called, but before court sat he became entangled in an argument with one of the principals. He was sent out as a result he suffered severe abrasions of the face, an abdominal pumping and an injured hand, the last when his fist contacted his opponent's head.

Mr. Henry Zerny left on Tuesday for Calgary where he will join his wife and family. Mr. Martin Becker will succeed Mr. Zerny in the jewelry and watch repairing business in Rimsey.

Mr. Snell, of Red Deer was in Rimsey last week surveying the streets in preparation for improvements which are to be made in the spring. The village council is also taking steps whereby the sidewalk of the main streets will be moved to regulation sites and probably be replaced by concrete.

The Rev. C. E. Thompson, of Red Deer is drawing a large attendance each evening at the evangelistic service he is conducting in the Church of the Nativity in Rimsey. The meetings will continue to and including the 26th.

Miss Edwina Woods and Miss Alma Hickey of the Northern Bible College Red Deer were among those from out of town who attended funeral of the late Mrs. T. N. Wright, Saturday, Oct. 19th.

Miss Mary Kennedy of the hospital staff here is reported as progressing favorably from injuries received to her foot when she fell from a bicycle.

Mr. Jean Lloyd, of Yakima, Washington, arrived in Rimsey on Monday and expects to spend two weeks visiting with relatives and attending to his farming interests in the Rimsey district. Mr. Lloyd was for many years one of Rimsey's prosperous farmers.

W. R. Howson, Liberal Chief Receives Warm Welcome

Church Hall was filled to capacity on Friday evening last, on the occasion of a Liberal Meeting, addressed by Provincial Liberal Leader, W. R. Howson. The audience was not confined to Liberals, many of the other political parties being in attendance, and all listened attentively to the address that lasted over an hour. Those in the audience who had been led to believe that Mr. Howson was carrying on a "road-aligning" campaign were agreeably surprised; Mr. Howson dealt with matters concerning the Province, pointed out the shortcomings of the present government, but never once uttered personalities nor referred to the members of that government in their private lives. He called attention to the fact that the government was most extravagant in the handling of the affairs of Alberta; referred to the ever-mounting taxes of our citizens, and promised reforms if the Liberals were placed in power.

Proposed New Marketing Act Not Received Very Favorably

Mr. O. Freer, of Winnipeg, in a broadcast over C.K.Y., on Monday last, had the following to say with reference to the proposed Marketing Act:

"Let me analyze the Act in this way. As I see it, there are three parties vitally interested, the Producer, the Distributor, and the Consumer."

"What will the Producer get by operating under the Act?"

"In my opinion, nothing. Why? Well, just because he will find his marketing costs, by the very nature and multiplicity of services performed, tremendously increased. His returns on a pool basis will mean payments at various intervals on account. It seems to me that we in Western Canada have seen enough of this type of settlement, for the sale of our farm produce, not to want any more of it."

"What will the Distributors gain by the operation of the Act?"

"Simply this. The Distributor, whose scheme is adopted, will gain everything. Under compulsion he gets that volume of business that he cannot get in any other way because volume when handled on a commission basis means increased revenue. All other distributors will be forced out of business, their connection, outlets and business entirely disorganized, and as a result, there will be nothing left to gauge or indicate whether or not the producer is getting good service and high sales. As a matter of fact, speaking very plainly, as I see it, there is only one group really clamoring for this legislation and it comes from a certain section of distributors who find that their claim of service is not attracting credit to their mill and they see in this type of legislation a means of reaching a much desired end."

"What will the Consumer gain by operation of the Act?"

"If anything, it will mean increased prices for what he buys. There is no mistake, the consumer always has and always will resent anything that favors of controlled prices and will show his resentment by either buying substitutes, (and there are substitutes for everything produced under the sun), or what is worse still he will show his resentment by filling his requirements and doing his buying in markets that are not controlled. The loss of our overseas wheat market is a mighty good illustration of this."

"We in Canada are an exporting nation, and always will be. In the face of this we must remember, whether we like it or not, we have to sell what we produce in the markets of the world and in competition with other countries."

"The open road, the unrestricted road, is always the safe road. Along this road producers, distributors and consumers can travel in perfect safety, because, just so long as the road is kept open, if they do not like each others company, they can make a change. Because of that principle, the driving force of sound honest competition will make the producer produce better quality goods; it will make the distributors sell his clients goods at the highest possible price with a minimum expense; and the consumer will buy on a fair basis because by the same token, the same road is open to him."

"What we want is Markets, not Schemes."

SYNOPSIS

"You're fallen near to a half-share in plenty of trouble," the lawyer told Gerald Keene. "The Broken Spur has been systematically looting the ranch, and old Joe Carr, your partner, is drinking himself into ruin."

But Keene decided to see what was happening for himself—so he went to the ranch. He found the Broken Spur, a notorious desperado, and old Joe Carr, who had been drinking himself into ruin. He found the Broken Spur, a notorious desperado, and old Joe Carr, who had been drinking himself into ruin.

Spike gaped at him. Then very slowly realization came. His eyes gleamed and his red face got redder and his wire-stiff beard seemed to bristle like the mane of an angry horse.

"... You know how these damned old fools of prospectors talk. They mutter worse old Kane can square himself with Joe Carr by letting him in on what he found on the Hourglass land. See now?"

what's got to be done. I needn't name it. What's the answer?"

Spike Goddard knew that answer but like his partner he dared not put it in speech. Dustin finally dared it.

"Old Kane has got to show us where he found this stuff and then he's got to disappear," he said.

For a long moment silence fell; a silence in which a cricket in the wall chirped loudly and the tick-tock of the cheap clock on the table sounded like the crack of doom. Spike poured himself another drink. He needed it badly. He knew what was meant.

"How?" he asked hoarsely.

"The less you know personally about it the better for us both," said Dustin. "It's a one-man job and I trust no other man where my own life is at stake. All I say is that I'm not going to fall to please old man Kane or Carr either. Suit you?"

"It sure does," said Spike. "I've had sudden visions of myself in a striped suit and he did not admire it. 'I'll help you.'"

"Help me hell," said Dustin fiercely. "I tell you it's a one-man job. One-and-a-half that is. First I'm going in to see on business. Be sure you keep old Dad Kane here. Don't let him leave on any excuse. I'll let him go to make arrangements for him to go back to open the mine. Keep him here till I get back. I want to find out all I can about old man Carr's finances."

"Huh. From all I hear he ain't got any. How'll he find out?"

"I've got ways you never thought of," said Dustin grimly. "The really big thing for us just now is to make Kane show us exactly where his location is. It'll be right bright to have him disappear and then find out we don't know where he found the gold."

"He poured himself another drink and picked up his hat."

"I'll be on my way," he said. "Be sure you ride hard on Kane."

Spike watched the departing car and when its following dust-cloud was swallowed up turned away to the kitchen.

He was under no illusions as to what Dustin meant when he said that Kane must disappear. For many years of their partnership he had seen some curious things. Sometimes he thought that that very partnership was the only reason for their mutual safety. Either could hang the other by too much talk. He knew Dustin was a man of his word and he knew suddenly that his "find" of old man Kane would put them both beyond any further need of money. Dustin was right.

"He'll probably bring home the bacon," he muttered. "Even if he has to kill some of the cattle to get it."

That was exactly what Sam Dustin proposed to do. He knew that the conscienceless suit over Soda Springs had cost Carr more than he had. He knew that the Broken Spur's depredations on the herds of the Hourglass had put that ranch in the red. He was sure that Joe Carr must owe a lot of money and he meant to find out to whom he owed it. Dustin believed in the strong hand and he knew that Solomon was right when he said: "The borrower is servant to the lender." It was dark when he parked his car before the sheet-fronted saloon in Seco. He strode down the main street, turned off at a dark alley and stopped at a little frame bungalow set well back in a clump of dusty Chinaberry trees. The door flew open at his knock and, almost instantly, an old woman holding a stinking kerosene lamp above her head, stood facing him.

"Evening, Miss Peters," he said civilly enough. "Sim in?"

"He went for the mail," said Mrs. Peters. "He ought to be back in a minute. Come in, Miss' Dustin. There comes Sim now," she added.

Expert Skin Grafting

London Surgeon Describes Remarkable Results That Can Be Attained

A method of detaching living skin from one part of the body to another to improve plastic surgery was described to the American College of Surgeons at Boston by Sir Harold Gillies, London surgeon.

The detouring of skin is one of the latest bits of skill. By its use skin without even losing its living connection with the patient's own blood supply, can be taken from virtually any part of the body, even the back, and transferred anywhere else.

By this method skin is taken from the outside of the body and detoured to interior cavities to save life.

The detour trip across or lengthwise of the body takes six to nine weeks. The method is known to surgeons as the tubed pedicle flap. The "flap" looks like the handle of a valve.

For detouring abdominal skin to the face, a square section of abdominal skin is first loosened along two opposite sides, lifted and rolled into the form of a valve handle.

This handle or flap remains fully alive nourished by blood vessels at each end, until it gets accustomed to its semi-independent form of life.

Makes Money Raising Birds

California Girl Has Five Thousand Rare Game Fowl

An offer of $1,500 for 75 pairs of birds she has on her little farm at Olney, California, was in the hands of Faye Lane, a former teacher, secretary and clerk, who went to California five years ago from North Dakota to "beat the depression" and has developed a unique business for a woman.

On a California hillside Miss Lane provides over rows of former tourist cabins that now house 5,000 rare game fowl collected from the four corners of the earth.

There are magnificent, iridescent pheasants from Mongolia; shining silver pheasants from Tibet, Swinhoe and Lady Amhursts from India; gorgeous, black-throated Golden from Morocco and Algeria. These parade in little gardens next to coverts of wild Valley quail and native grouse.

"That really is not much of a price for our birds," said Miss Lane, referring to the $1,500 offer. "Chukar partridges, like all fancy birds, are scarce this year. I have been offered as high as $1,000 for one pair of Falcoena parrots."

"White Peafowl from this farm sometimes bring $200 apiece. Mikado pheasants have often sold for $500 a pair."

There is a joker in all these prices, however. The birds are extremely difficult to raise in captivity. A pair of these birds will sometimes go for several years without hatching an egg, or if they do hatch, raising a chick.

Linda Vista ranch specializes in native California quail, ducks, and geese, and raises thousands of Valley quail. These birds are sold to the game commission for release in the hills to provide sport for the hunter, much as streams are restocked with trout for the fisherman.

"But to most interesting bird that I know of," said Miss Lane, "is the little wild Valley quail. 'Ting things that are no bigger than a dove when grown, and a canary when a baby, they have an unusual intelligence. When a covey is hatched and ready to come out, the cock and hen arrange a regular espionage system. I have seen it over and over. Papa takes a stand on a high knoll, overlooking the vicinity. If all is clear he calls and mama runs out with the chicks, keeping a sharp lookout on the opposite side. She talks to them incessantly, in little low chuckles, but at one sharp call from papa they are gone. Quick as lightning, they simply melt into the grass, and I have never seen one of them fail to hide themselves."

"Not long ago a cat strayed into our place, and before I could get rid of him, he caught a tiny Valley quail hen, which was sitting. The male, in spite of the fact that the big cat was killing him with one paw, rode that cat, hanging on to the top of his head and fought him for dear life, till the cat dropped the hen and turned on him in self-defence. I was able to drive him off and save both birds," said Miss Lane.

Free Samples at Druggists of the Remarkable New Aid in the Prevention of Colds

Local Druggists Are Now Offering A Free Trial Of Vicks Vapo-Rub For Nose and Throat—Also Of Its Ideal Companion, Vicks VapoRub

NEW PREVENTION IDEA

This Discovery Introduces Unique Vicks Plan For Better Colds-Control

HOW VICKS PLAN WORKS

Following years of research on the problem of colds, Vicks Chemists have developed a new aid in preventing colds—Vicks Vapo-Rub, for nose and throat. This new Vicks preparation is the ideal companion to Vicks VapoRub, the modern method of treating colds.

These two Vicks preparations, together with a few simple rules of health, form the unique Vicks Plan for Better Control of Colds. The helplessness of the Plan in reducing the number and duration of colds has been clinically tested by physicians. Full details of the Plan are in the package of Vicks Vapo-Rub and of Vicks VapoRub.

Briefly, here is how Vicks Plan works:

To Help Prevent Colds
Watch yourself and children after exposure to any condition that you know is apt to be followed by a cold, such as—

Conduct with others having fresh colds—colds, stuffy ill-ventilated rooms, public places—excesses in living, such as over-eating, smoking or drinking, which reduce body resistance.

To Help Shorten A Cold
If a cold has developed, rub Vicks VapoRub over throat and chest at bedtime. Through the night, VapoRub attacks the cold direct two ways at once—by stimulation, direct through the skin, like a poultice or plaster—and by inhalation of its medicated vapors direct to the inflamed air-passages. This long-continued double action loosens phlegm, soothes irritated membranes, eases difficult breathing, and helps break congestion.

During the day—any time, any place—use Vicks Vapo-Rub every few hours as needed. This gives you full 24-hour treatment without the risk of constant internal dosing, which so often upsets the digestion—especially of children.

Trial Package Free
Your druggist has free combination packages containing trial sizes of Vapo-Rub and VapoRub—also folder telling how these twin aids to fewer colds and shorter colds are used in Vicks Plan for Better Control of Colds. Ask for yours today, as your druggist's supply is limited.

Little Helps For This Week

"Wherefore beloved be diligent that ye may be found of Him in peace, without spot, and blameless." 2 Peter 3:14.

Even the smallest discontent of conscience may render turbid the whole temper of the mind, but only produce the effort that restores his peace, and over the whole atmosphere a breath of unexpected purity is spread, doubt and irritability pass as clouds away, the withered sympathies of earth and home open their leaves and live, and through the clearest blue the deep is seen of the heaven where God resides. —J. The state of mind that is described as meekness, or quietness of spirit, is characterized in a high degree by the word harmony. This is not as formerly that inward jarring of thought contending with thought, and conscience asserting rights which it could not maintain.

An Important Discovery

Herb Used By Florida Indians Cures X-Ray Burns

Successful cure of X-ray burns by application of an herb used by the Seminole Indians of Florida has been reported at Baltimore.

Dr. C. E. Collins and his son, Creston, of Crisfield, Md., described the efficiency of the herb in treating burns either from X-rays or fire, in a paper read before the radiological section of the medical and surgical faculty at Baltimore.

Members of the faculty said the curative powers of the plant should be submitted to an "intensive investigation," as the only effective cure of X-ray burns at present is by skin grafting.

The young Collins said he discovered the healing qualities of the plant while living on the edge of the Everglades last year.

Something To Know

If you want to revive wilted lettuce or other salad greens, put them in a pan of water to which has been added a cupful of vinegar. Let them set for half an hour and they'll be quite crisp. Incidentally, if you wrap lettuce in a damp towel and stick the ends of the towel in a dish of water, it will keep fresh for days.

Number Increased By Over 2,000 Last Year

An increase of more than 2,000 automobiles in the last year in British Columbia is shown in a report completed by Inspector G. A. Hood, of the motor record office. At the end of September there were 79,918 passenger vehicles operating and 15,642 piled in the commercial trade. Last year at the same time there were only 69,373 passenger cars on the road and 15,651 commercial cars. This represents a combined increase of 2,136.

WOULD BE TOO BAD

Last week burglars invaded the office of the Hanna Herald and stole open the safe. In this they used very poor judgment, for as might be expected in a newspaper office, the safe contained no cash.

We mention the fact merely for the protection of our subscribers. Our own safe might be dynamited any night. There is no cash in it, but we keep our subscription list in the safe and we would hate to have some night, ill-mannered burglar looking over the list of those who have not paid their subscriptions. We keep this matter confidential between the individual subscriber and ourselves. But you never can tell when a naughty burglar might come about and scoop around getting information that is none of his business. We know our subscribers would be embarrassed if a low fellow like that were to see their name in papers.

The L.O.B.E. will hold a card party in the Empress Hotel on Friday evening—contract and Auction Bridge and you are invited.

Rimby to Hold a Fight Tournament

There is a big treat for fight fans coming off in Rimby soon, when the biggest bout of the century is billed for the first week in December—the exact date has not been decided upon. Rimby's own battling Darcy Clayton who has never been beaten in the ring will fight one of western Canada's most famed boxers. Definite notice will soon be in the press. A party of young hunters, George Wright, Ronald Idings, Victor Remy, Norbert Becker and Marvin Becker, who left Rimby on October 26th, for the moon country, have managed to send word back that they are still headed westward and will not return for several days. Two forest rangers came across the boys fifty miles west of Rocky Mountain House where they were camped. They are equipped with a tent, a wagon and two teams of horses and plenty of axes, so that they can go as far into the bush and tell trees as they desire. Heads around Rimby are very slippery, and one load of grain slipped over the embankment on the road on the river hill, west of town on Saturday and the icy condition of the same road was the cause of the overturning of a coupe driven by Mr. R. Platt of Rimby. Neither the car nor its occupant were injured.

THREE DEAD

Three children are dead, and their parents and a fourth child are in hospital here as a result of a fire which destroyed their farm shack near Alake, in the Buck Creek district. Two of the children died while a doctor was rushing them over seventy miles of road to Edmonton, and the third died Wednesday night in hospital. The dead: Doreen Broulette, four; Gerald Broulette, two; Donald Broulette, five. The injured: Dennis Broulette, seven weeks; J. T. Broulette, thirty-three; Mrs. J. T. Broulette. The parents and the fourth child are expected to recover. The fire was caused by an explosion of distillate, a tractor fuel fluid more inflammable than gasoline, which Broulette had sprinkled on a sluggish fire in the kitchen stove. Mrs. Broulette and the children were in bed in the small single room of their log home when fire enveloped the dwelling. Broulette tried desperately to pull open the door that would not seem to yield, gas pressure being so strong, while the mother grasped her seven-week-old baby in one arm and strove with equal desperation to pluck the children from their cribs. Finally the door was opened, and the father rushed to the open with a child under each arm, and the mother followed with the baby and a fourth child.

Dr. M. Hadden, of Eberday, travelled twenty miles to reach the home and raced with three of the children towards Edmonton, but two of them died before arrival here. The parents and another child were brought in another car.

Where does your merchant keep PERISHABLE Food?

YOU'RE probably a bit "funny" in your home about the foods you eat, careful to guard them from disease-bearing Bacteria by correct refrigeration below 50 degrees from the moment they enter your home, because you know that unless perishable foods are protected from the heated atmosphere they quickly lose their freshness and may endanger health.

DOES your merchant safeguard the foods which you purchase by using Electric Refrigeration, or IS YOUR FOOD IN DANGER before it even reaches your home?

NEXT time you go shopping for food why not look around the store and see if you are getting this definite assurance of freshness, YOU'RE ENTITLED TO IT.
